4. Arrange the following events in chronological order by writing number 1 to 6 besides the item number in the answer booklets(s) provided

(i) Therefore, at different times and in different colonies, different groups of Africans started raising objections to some of the demands of colonialism

(ii) Thus, although the colonial state established effective control over the entire territory, the various groups were ruled separately. The nationalists, therefore, had to bring about a feeling of national unity among the different ethnic groups.

(iii) They also had to lead the different groups in the struggle for political independence. After seizing political power, the nationalists aimed at establishing nation states.

(iv) The aim of nationalism is to regain independence for a specific colony. Under colonialism, different ethnic groups were lumped together into one territory known as a colony.

(v) They also started looking for ways to settle some of their grievances through the formation of different movements, associations and independent churches.

(vi) Nationalist movements were a result of contradictions which arose during colonial production. As Africans increasingly participated in colonial production, they felt the growing impact of exploitation
